

The Gianna Check

Six checks. Every task. No exceptions.

The task I am checking:

- ☐ 1. The Receipts Check
Every fact, quote, and claim: can I point to where it came from? If the answer has no source I can open, it does not go out under my name.
- ☐ 2. The Names and Numbers Check
Names spelled right. Dates, deadlines, and totals verified against the original. These are the details AI invents most smoothly.
- ☐ 3. The Empty Cell Check
What is missing? The owner nobody assigned, the date nobody set, the question nobody answered. A gap is a decision I still owe.
- ☐ 4. The Sound Check
Read it out loud. If it does not sound like me on a good day, it gets edited until it does. My voice is my brand.
- ☐ 5. The Privacy Check
Did I paste anything that was not mine to share? Placeholders go in before anything is pasted; real details go back in after.
- ☐ 6. The Signature Test
Would I sign my name to this in front of the person receiving it? If the answer takes longer than a breath, it goes back for one more round.

My verdict before this goes out:

Six boxes checked and a verdict written: that is a piece of work that can carry your name.
